Vital Strategies seeks a consultant to offer key recommendations and action steps to make digital content more accessible to persons with disabilities. The anticipated internal review start date is July 15, 2022, and anticipated end-date is August 31, 2022. The internal review is anticipated to take a total of 50 workhours.

Vital Strategies Organizational Background

Vital Strategies is a global health organization that believes every person should be protected by a strong public health system. We work with governments and civil society in 73 countries to design and implement evidence-based strategies that tackle their most pressing public health problems. Our goal is to see governments adopt promising interventions at scale as rapidly as possible.

Our experts provide technical and professional guidance to partners and government agencies. Vital Strategies combines evidence-based strategies with innovation to help develop and implement sound public health policies, manage programs efficiently, strengthen data systems, conduct research and design strategic communication campaigns for policy and behavior change. Vital Strategies is working with community partners and stakeholders in eight states to expand access to evidence-based harm reduction services in response to this crisis. Our team does not accept gifts or funds from industries related to tobacco, sugary drinks and alcoholic drinks. We actively seek to engage with stakeholders who share our values and seeks to work with partners who endorse and encourage the highest ethical work practices and standards.

Objective/s

Vital Strategies seeks to improve accessibility of its publications – chiefly digital materials such as PDFs and websites – to reach communities of difference such as those with visual or hearing differences. Towards that end, Vital is seeking competitive proposals from qualified service providers to provide services to Vital Strategies as described in the project overview and appended sections below.

The selected consultant will demonstrate:

- Required: Expertise in accessibility guidelines such as those published for the Americans with Disabilities Act or other best practice model, with a digital material (e.g., PDFs, websites, social media)
- Required: Track record of consulting with organizations to improve accessibility of their publications

- Preferred: Understanding of social issues, intersectional justice and equity issues such as drug policy, criminal justice, harm reduction and/or other racial and social justice issues.
- Preferred: Demonstrated understanding of lived experiences of marginalized communities, particularly those with visually/hearing difference.

Project Overview

Through our Overdose Prevention Program, Vital Strategies has co-produced and funded the creation of toolkits, resources, multi-media campaigns and e-documents that advance harm reduction and evidence-based drug overdose prevention strategies. Vital Strategies is launching an internal review to make digital content materials more accessible to persons with disabilities based on best practices and accessibility guidelines, such as those set forth by the ADA.

The selected consultant will be tasked with reviewing and redesigning one specific product previously published through our program – the “Survival Strategies for People Who Use Drugs” PDF document – and with providing general design feedback and recommendations for future products based on review of this document. This guide was created by Project SAFE, a Philadelphia-based mutual aid harm reduction collective for women, queer, and trans people who use drugs and do sex work. The e-toolkit, published in 2021, is a guide for service providers and harm reduction programs that work with people who use drugs; it offers suggestions for effective harm reduction and public health messaging on this topic of using drugs alone. Revising this guide will ensure equitable access for persons with disabilities who use drugs.

This review will be internal to Vital Strategies. Key recommendations provided by the consultant during this review will be utilized to revise and redesign other existing external-facing e-documents to make them more accessible to people with disabilities. Key recommendations and accessibility guidelines will also serve as an ongoing resource for Vital staff to reference when co-producing or creating future publications.

Services Requested

Vital Strategies seeks a consultant to redesign Vital Strategies’ Survival Strategies for People Who Use Drugs guide based on accessibility guidelines, offering key recommendations and feedback Vital Strategies can utilize to make digital content materials more accessible to persons with disabilities.

- Coordinate with Vital Strategies to draft a sample document based on the identified accessibility guidelines and best practices.
